Dear customers,

It was more than 20 years ago that I discovered the fascinating effect of magnets. After this discovery, many popular magnetic jewellery collections and wellness products have emerged; products which provide a sense of well-being and positive energy.

This year I am particularly enthusiastic about our new aromatic oils.

You can look forward to beautiful jewellery that makes an impact, soothing accessories and ideas for more well-being in your daily life.

My top tip: try our products now, let yourself be inspired and follow the motto, "Do a good deed every day!" by recommending MAGNETIX to friends and family.

Magnetic Power – Balances Life

„Magnetism is an ever-present force that affects everything, everywhere including mankind, the animal and plant worlds.“

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe,
German poet

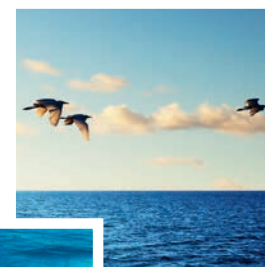

The power of magnets determines our daily lives. In nature, for example, birds and whales orient themselves along the Earth's magnetic tracks, and magnetic fields are also an integral part of the human body.

The force of the Earth's magnetic field cannot be:

Seen
Heard
Tasted
Smelt
Felt

Nevertheless, it has a strong effect, for example in loud-speakers (allowing beautiful music to reach us) or in modern examination methods such as with the MRI technique (which enables diagnosis without the use of X-rays).

New Wave

An elegant curve captures the dynamic of a gentle wave on which pearls of water dance and the sunlight plays. It is the interaction of the colours that is fascinating. It is the harmonious lines that decorate – and the power of the magnets that you can feel.

Be enchanted by this new line with a curved design that is both joyful and elegant at the same time.

Stainless steel

A big advantage, when it comes to stainless steel jewellery, is the fact that it does not discolour and is more durable than silver jewellery. Stainless steel is absolutely rust-proof and especially skin friendly. Our stainless steel pieces are endowed with powerful neodymium magnets.

Positive Energy

Concentration of negative ions (Ø)

| Environment | Negative ions/cm ³ |
|-----------------------|-------------------------------|
| Air-conditioned room | 0–100 |
| Busy roads | 100–300 |
| Well ventilated house | 500 |
| River banks | 600 |
| Woodland | 3,000 |
| Waterfall | 5,000–50,000 |

A favourable ratio is 60 % negative ions to 40 % positive ions.

When showering, the water drops should be enriched with negative oxygen molecules.

In the forest and at the water there are an especially large amount of negative ions.

Fresh air gives us energy and vitality.

What are negative ions?

Among other things, our air is filled with charged atoms or molecules, so-called ions. If they have more protons than electrons, they are positively charged; if they have excess electrons, they have a negative charge.

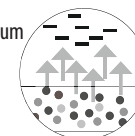

Higher concentrations of negative ions of up to 50,000 per cm³ are mainly found in nature. For example, near rivers and waterfalls, but also forests and mountains, and interestingly, where lightning has just struck.

In closed rooms, especially in the vicinity of computers and other modern devices, there is usually an excess of positive ions.

The number of negative ions can be increased, for example, by frequent ventilation or also by a fine water jet such as a shower.

Wellness Jewellery with Negative Ions

Our Vitalix Wellness Collection combines the negative ions, popular with many athletes and health-conscious people, with the power of magnets.

According to the ancient yin-yang theory, negative ions balance out the positive ion excess found in modern industrial nations. The skin-friendly silicone makes this magnetic ion jewellery particularly pleasant to wear.

Details of materials and other important information

Magnets

The jewellery pieces contain one or more neodymium magnets. With 18 mm centre elements for bracelets you have approx. 1,800 Gauss, for water sticks approx. 2,200 Gauss. The magnets of most of the other jewellery pieces have a Gauss intensity of approx. 1,200 Gauss. Magnets may damage credit cards and other cards with magnetic strips. Please keep your cards away from magnet jewellery and accessories.

Materials

Most of our magnetic jewellery is made out of high quality stainless steel. Some jewellery pieces have a copper part built in.

Pacemakers

People with pacemakers should not wear magnetic products.

The right to cancel

As our customer you have a 14 day cancellation right. The full purchase price will be reimbursed. Should you for any reason not be content with your magnetic jewellery, you may return it within 30 days. You will then be refunded the purchase price less a 15% handling charge.

Copper jewellery

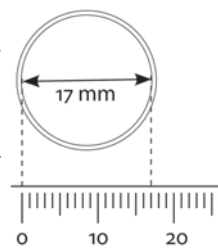

With some people wearing a copper bracelet, the wrist turns slightly green, as a result of a natural reaction between the acidity of the skin and the copper. This discolouration washes off easily with soap and water or a little lemon juice. Many MAGNETIX products are not made of copper as a lot of people do not want or need a copper supplement. In addition, some designs cannot be made of copper for technical reasons. To prevent discolouration of the skin, coat the inside of the bracelet with clear nail polish.

Jewellery care

Jewellery should be removed before showering, swimming or doing wet household chores. It can also be damaged by perfumes, creams, deodorants, hairspray or detergents. The best way to clean your jewellery is with a jewellery polishing cloth or lukewarm water.

Measure the internal diameter in millimetres of a ring that fits. This measurement is the order size. (Please only order in whole millimetres/sizes)

Foot reflex zones

Countless nerve paths lead from the sole of our feet to various internal organs. If these organs are stimulated via the soles of the feet by a pressure point massage with gravel, it should have a positive effect on the whole body. For this reason, walking barefoot on a shingle beach or footpath is very popular.

Stay Cool!

Pain treatment with thermotherapies

Moist compresses are among the oldest household remedies in the world. Whether with fevers or sore throats – cold and warm compresses can bring relief to a wide variety of illnesses. Cold showers for health promotion were recommended as early as the 19th century by Pastor Sebastian Kneipp!

Helping the body to heal itself: if done in the correct way, heating and cooling can strengthen the immune system and alleviate symptoms.

Heat provides for relaxation, while cold must first stimulate our body to trigger a reaction. As soon as a cold stimulus touches the skin, the human body reacts with defensive measures to compensate for the loss of heat, e.g. by increasing blood circulation!

Cold in the form of damp compresses or towels can help with fever and headaches.

Cold compresses are also used for sports injuries.

Cold showers were first recommended by Sebastian Kneipp.

The healing effect of the cold

Cold can relieve pain, inhibit inflammation and relax the muscles. Contrast showers (alternating hot and cold water) can strengthen the immune system and provide more strength and vitality! But the cold can do even more: a pleasant cold stimulus can also relieve acute pain from sports injuries, swelling or insect bites.

Helpful massage tips:

- Find a quiet, relaxed setting
- Cover body parts that are not currently being massaged, so that they do not get cold
- Warm the oil in your hands before the massage
- Always massage towards the heart – from the feet to the hips, for example, and not vice versa

Relax!

A massage also has an invigorating and relaxing effect on the head and face.

For heavy legs and muscle soreness, stretching or massaging helps.

Massages help with:

- Mild back pain
- Tension or pain in the back, neck or legs
- Tension in shoulders or hands
- Poor blood circulation
- Psychological stress

Massages – effective in many ways

Massages affect our body in different ways. They affect the skin, the muscles and the connective tissue through pressure, stretching or pulling. They promote the blood circulation of the skin and the musculature. The cell metabolism in the tissue is stimulated and blood pressure and pulse drop. The massage has a relaxing effect, hardenings in muscles and lactic acid can be eased and pain can thereby be relieved.

A massage is supposed to also have a positive effect on the entire body, for example by having a beneficial effect on the internal organs during a foot reflex zone massage. Not only the body, but also the psyche finds massages relaxing: the gentle touches can reduce existing stress.

Massages help with tense shoulders and mild back pain.

What are essential oils?

Essential oils are natural, highly concentrated substances, which are obtained from different parts of plants and consist of up to 160 individual ingredients. They protect the plants from diseases and attract insects. Most essential oils are obtained by steam distillation, some by cold pressing or extraction.

Essential oils have a positive effect on body and mind, because the sense of smell is directly connected to the limbic system of the brain, the switch point of our emotions. Essential oils can influence our mood, stimulate our senses and stimulate our self-healing powers. They are used in diffuser lamps, in the bath, with compresses and wraps, for inhalation and as massage oils.

Essential oils can be absorbed particularly well through the skin of the soles of the feet or palms of the hands.

For mild headaches, a gentle massage of the temples and neck with essential oils stimulates and invigorates the circulation.

Inhalations with essential oils are pleasant for respiratory diseases and coughs.

Massages with essential oils have a relaxing and balancing effect.
